

The following educational programs are listed in alphabetical order according to studies at the undergraduate, graduate, post-doctoral/internship or continuing education levels. The school's location, degrees offered, and training specializations are listed, as well as other interesting information that was highlighted on each program's website. When reviewing the list, it is important to remember that this is not a comprehensive list of programs of study or practice, for example some programs and training institutions may not have websites to advertise their offerings. The intention of the listing is to help students and practitioners find programs of study. With this in mind, the Student Column Committee of Contemporary Sexuality presents the following list of programs and institutions to study human sexuality.

Undergraduate Programs

California State University – Human Sexuality Program - Center for Sex Research

Northridge, CA

Undergraduate minor in human sexuality

Involves cross-discipline studies. A practicum and fieldwork are required, adding experience to knowledge. Houses unique library containing resources from different departments and topics on human sexuality.

San Francisco State University Program in Human Sexuality

San Francisco, CA

Undergraduate minors in Human Sexuality and Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender

University of Quebec – Department of Sexology

Montreal, Quebec, Canada

B.A., M.A. – sexology

Focuses on sex education. Master's level encompasses sex therapy and research, plus more advanced sex education.

Graduate Programs

¹Program reflecting training primarily as a researcher

²Program reflecting a practitioner model/clinical skills

³Program reflecting general sexology

American Academy of Clinical Sexologists²

Maimonides University - North Miami, FL

Ph.D. – pastoral clinical sexology

Prepares students for sex therapy certification in Florida (a requirement in FL if wanting to practice in this state). Emphasizes the importance of religion in providing therapy.

Columbia University – Mailman School of Public Health¹

New York, NY

M.P.H. – sexuality and health

Equips students with skills needed to address health issues, e.g., reproductive health, and child and adolescent health, related to sexuality through interdepartmental studies. (Note: Students applying for the program are expected to have worked for 2 years in the field of public health, which can include undergraduate volunteer/practicum experiences).

Hofstra University – Interdisciplinary Studies/Marriage & Family Counseling²

New York, NY

M.A. – interdisciplinary studies/marriage & family counseling (plus family counseling certification)

Provides skills needed for marriage/family counseling and introduces students to sexuality education, counseling and research.

Indiana University – Kinsey Institute¹

Bloomington, IN

Ph.D. minor - human sexuality; majors include counseling, education, health behavior, psychology, and sociology

Offers research programs investigating a variety of sex topics and a summer institute for students who are not involved with the university. Houses one of the largest library holdings on human sexuality, as well as a sexuality art museum. Hosts seminars on sexuality and holds special events.

Institute for Advanced Study of Human Sexuality³

San Francisco, CA

M.A., MPH, Ed. D., Ph.D., DHS (Doctor of Human Sexuality), plus certification options – human sexuality

Seeks to train sexologists. Offers long-distance learning. Certificate programs are unique to the Institute, e.g., erotology. Also, the Master's program allows students to travel to Paris or China for a cultural perspective on public health.

San Francisco State University Program in Human Sexuality¹

San Francisco, CA

M.A. – human sexuality.

Provides foundation for sex counseling, teaching and research. Specializes in gay, lesbian, and bisexual studies. Houses the Institute on Sexuality, Social Inequality, and Health, the National Sexuality Resource Center, and the Center for Research on Gender and Sexuality, plus has a summer institute.

University of Connecticut – Center for HIV Intervention & Prevention – Psychology Department¹

Storrs, CT

M.A., Ph.D. – social psychology with a specialization in HIV prevention

Conducts HIV risk dynamics and prevention research.

University of Guelph – Department of Family Relations & Applied Nutrition^{1,2}

Guelph, Ontario, Canada

M.Sc. – couple and family therapy; Ph.D. – family relations and human development

Emphasizes child/adolescent development, social/personality development, parent-child relations, social gerontology, human sexuality, and marriage/family therapy.

University of Hawaii – Human Sexuality Program – Department of Social Work; Pacific Center for Sex and Society - Department of Anatomy and Reproductive Biology^{1,2}

Honolulu, HI

M.A., Ph.D. - specializes in human sexuality counseling

Houses the Pacific Center for Sex and Society, which provides research opportunities.

University of Minnesota – Department of Family Social Science^{1,2}

St. Paul, MN

M.A., Ph.D. - family social science; M.F.T. certification for clinical track

Specializes in marriage/family and sex therapy.

University of New Brunswick – Department of Psychology^{1,2}

Fredericton, New Brunswick, Canada

Ph.D. – psychology

Prepares students for clinical or experimental psychology involving human sexuality.

University of Quebec – Department of Sexology²

Montreal, Quebec, Canada

B.A., M.A. – sexology

Focuses on sex education. Master's level encompasses sex therapy and research, plus more advanced sex education.

University of Utah – Department of Psychology^{1,2}

Salt Lake City, UT

Ph.D. – clinical psychology

Emphasizes human sexuality in research and clinical work.

University of Wisconsin – Departments of Psychology & Sociology¹

Madison, WI

Ph.D. – psychology or sociology

Focuses on human sexuality, especially sex research. Is part of a consortium where a student may study at University of Chicago, University of Minnesota or Wisconsin.

Widener University – Human Sexuality Program²

Wayne, PA

M.Ed., Ed.D. – human sexuality education/clinical sexuality

Prepares professionals for sex education, consulting, research, and counseling. Also offers joint degree programs with Social work or Clinical Psychology. Program is both distance and work friendly in that human sexuality courses are offered on weekends. One semester course is generally two weekends.

Also provides opportunity to study abroad.

Internship & Post-Doctoral Programs

University of California – Center for AIDS Prevention Studies

San Francisco, CA

Grants traineeships in AIDS Prevention Studies.

University of Minnesota – Department of Family Practice & Community Health Minneapolis, MN

Fellowships in human sexuality, dysfunction and disease prevention for post-doctorates in clinical psychology.

Conducts sexuality research, provides sex education, offers clinical services for sexual and relationship problems, and promotes community sexual health via community health initiatives. Houses the Center for Sexual Health and the Center for HIV/STI Intervention & Prevention Studies.

Continuing/Professional Education Programs

The Masters & Johnson Institute

St. Louis, MO

Does not have an academic program, but provides training programs involving workshops and, through special arrangements, practicum in residence that focus on recovery from sexual trauma.

Robert Wood Johnson Medical School

Piscataway, NJ

Post-graduate training in relationship and sex therapy

Offers a week-long sexuality course (40 hours) that's not offered by any other program (counts as graduate credit if individual writes a paper).

Rutgers University – Post-Graduate Training Program in Sex Therapy – Department of Psychiatry/Medical School

Piscataway, NJ

Hosts a 10-month course, which meets for two hours on a weekly basis. Covers both assessment and treatment of all sexual dysfunctions. The second semester of the course offers supervision of participants' cases.

Southern Connecticut State University

New Haven, CT

Graduate course in Human Sexuality, including a 15 hour SAR.